TOEX Tackling Organised Exploitation

Dave Green, Detective Inspector

(NEROCU, TOEX)

The TOEX Programme is an intelligence capability that provides dedicated intelligence and analytical expertise in support of forces undertaking complex organised exploitation investigations, such as modern slavery & human trafficking, organised immigration crime, county lines, adult & child sexual exploitation and abuse. Built around existing structures, TOEX teams are embedded within each of the Regional Organised Crime Units (ROCU), and ensure victims are safeguarded and those seeking to profit from exploitation - including localised criminality and the upstream organised criminality which drives it, are disrupted and brought to justice.

Working with and Supporting Boys

Dr Nicholas Marsh, Founder of 10and23.com

This workshop delves into relevant topics and concepts when working with and supporting boys, such as masculinity and how a young male's distinct identities can affect the care and support they receive. By employing real-life examples, this session highlights the impact of professional prejudices and societal norms on how young males are perceived and how this can heighten their exposure to abuse and exploitation.
